If Cubs could lend Lew Richie to other teams around the circuit to pitch against Giants, McGraw's gang would never win a game.

Yesterday's win made the third time in past week that Lew has put it over the New Yorkers.

Seven hits were all the Giants jolted from the comedian, and only two of the swatters reached second base.

Heinie Zimmerman was a whale on defense. He pulled a one-hand jumping catch of a line drive that busted a Giant rally, robbed Chief Meyers of two hits and started a double play.

Zim also uncorked a double in the sixth, the round that busted the hold of Mr. Tesreau on Cubs.

Tommy Leach and Jimmy Archer each made two of the nine hits accumulated off Tesreau. One of Leach's scored two runs in the sixth.

Tesreau started like a streak, fanning a bunch of Cubs. Archer opened the third with a single, and then Big Jeff whiffed Richie, Sheckard and Schulte.

The Cubs began solving Tesreau in the fifth, and in the sixth it was all off.

Otis Crandall worked the last two innings for the Giants, and Chance's crew acquired one run off his shoots.

Beals Becker, with a double and single, was high gun for New York. Becker never got past second, Zim stabbing him out once when he tried to reach third on a blow by Murray.

Since returning home Cubs have won six and lost two from the two strongest teams in the east. Now they meet Boston and Brooklyn, while the Giants are battling Pittsburgh. That lead of four and a half games, should dwindle.

White Sox outbatted Yanks, but Wolverton's crew soaked the pill when men were on bases.

Erratic fielding by the Sox had a great deal to do with the big score run up by the Yanks.

Caldwell, who heaved for the Yanks, smeared a triple off Joe Benz.

Kid Gleason, coaching at third base, was hit in the face by a foul from Rath's bat in the first inning. The Kid's face was cut, but he will be on the lines this afternoon.

Four hits were all the Pirates could get from Nap Rucker.

Only man to get past first base for Pittsburgh was Hans Wagner, who blasted a triple in ninth.

Babe Adams was also good, yielding but seven hits. His fine work was blasted against the tight work of Rucker.

Fisher, Dodgers' new shortstopper, added two more hits to the numerous bingles he has been collecting lately.
